Heffer elected new head of Health Board

Paul Heffer will take over as chair of the Haliburton County Acting Health Services Board. Heffer served as vice-chair until the election of a new executive last Wednesday evening. Two vice-chairmen, Hugh Nichol and David Coulson were elected at the same time.

The board's nomination committee submitted the names for the offices. No other nominations came from the floor.

In his report at last week's meeting of the Acting Health Services Board, executive director Foster Loucks said that St. Joseph's Hospital had submitted a deficit budget to the Ministry of Health for the Minden and Haliburton hospitals.

The Ministry has returned that budget, requesting a balanced plan for the two facilities for the coming fiscal year.

Loucks said after the meeting that he isn't certain of St. Joseph's reason for submitting a deficit budget when the ministry made it clear that a only balanced budget would be acceptable.

"Perhaps it was to point out that the situation in both Minden and Haliburton

Gun lobby 'betrayed' by O'Reilly

by Jerry Grozelle

John O'Reilly's absence from the House of Commons to vote against federal Justice Minister Allan Rock's fire-arms legislation (Bill C-68) has gun owners in the Haliburton Highlands, and the rest of the Victoria-Haliburton riding feeling a sense of betrayal.

Since Bill C-68 was introduced, the Victoria-Haliburton MP has been an outspoken opponent of the legislation. While addressing a rally of almost 1,200 people at the Haliburton High School on February 5, O'Reilly promised to vote against the legislation if mandatory registration wasn't deleted from the legislation package.

"We have enough gun control now," O'Reilly said at the rally. "I don't see any reason for registering all firearms."

Since then he has been quoted in numerous publications, including major Canadian newspapers, Maclean's magazine and others, as a staunch opponent of the bill. Those sentiments were repeated during interviews on CBC, CTV, Newsworld and other television net-

Bravery citations

Two members of the Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police received the Commissioner's Citations for Bravery at a ceremony June 8 in Peterborough. Constable Eric Nystedt, who died as a result of an assault while on duty July 3, 1993, received the honour posthumously. His partner, Senior Constable Mike Landry, second from the right, was also presented with the citation. Constable Scott Nystedt, second from the left, accepted the honour on his brother's behalf. Making the presentations were, Chief Superintendent, and former District Eight Superintendent, Bob Eamer, left and Deputy Commissioner (retired) Bill Goad, right. Additional awards were presented to Minden officers and citizens, during the ceremony. See page 5 for details.

Dancers will compete in Scotland

by Andrew Milne

Three local teens will be going to Scotland this August to compete in the world championships of highland dancing.

Cheri Rivard, Amy Rosenberg, and Breanne Mansfield competed at an all-Ontario event in Georgetown, Ontario to qualify for the games in Dunoon, where dancers from around the world will compete.

The three will travel to Scotland August 16, and are staying in Glasgow. They will also be attending the Commonwealth games in Glasgow, and the Bute games in Rothsay.

This energetic form of dance is a Scottish tradition. Some of the dances originated as war dances centuries ago. Dancers prepare for the event with stretching exercises, and lots of rehearsal.

"It takes a lot of stamina," says Rivard who has been dancing for 14 years.

The three will be holding a car wash June 24, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in front of the old ambulance base in Minden to raise money for the trip.

Cheri Rivard, Breanne Mansfield and Amy Rosenberg will be competing in Scotland this summer.

Fred Chapple, right, representing the committee which organized the Sandy Bannon Memorial fund, presented the proceeds from the venture to three fire chiefs to be used in the purchase of rescue equipment. The chiefs also received plaques to hang in their respective halls noting the contributions that were made in the name of Sandy Bannon. Recipients include, from the left, Stanhope Fire Chief Bob Pollard, Dysart Fire Chief Myles Maughan and Minden Fire Chief Bill Hogg. (See story below for additional details.)

Sandy Bannon Fund purchases equipment: 3 departments benefit

The money raised through the Sandy Bannon Memorial Fund has been split between three fire departments in the county. The presentation of the cheques, almost $6000 each, was made by committee members at the regular Mutual Aid fire meeting Tuesday night at Stanhope.

The fund was started in 1991 after teenager Sandy Bannon was killed by a gunshot fired by her father. Following the tragedy, the committee was created to build a lighted heli-port at the Minden Hospital. The landing site would be used by helicopter air ambulances for transferring critically ill patients to larger hospitals.

Shortly after the fund was started, a set of reflectors was installed, as an interim measure, at the grass helicopter landing site next to the Minden Hospital, making the pad usable 24 hours a day.

The committee has watched with concern as the debate continues over the placement of health care facilities in the Highlands. They were reluctant to invest the funds in a site that may not be the permanent location of the Minden Hospital and its emergency department.

"Rather than leave the money in the bank, where it is not serving anyone's needs, we thought it would be best to put it to work," Lee Turner, one of the committee members said. She noted that while the group had identified a heli-port as its goal, the fund's mandate also included emergency services.

"The fire departments are often the first to respond to emergencies and they all have requirements for equipment today. The money is to be used for equipment to help save lives. So the group felt it would better to spend the money in this manner rather than wait, however long it may take, for the hospital issue to be settled," Turner said. "The committee agreed unanimously on this course of action. We feel this will be a nice memorial to Sandy."

A plaque accompanied each of the donations to identify that the donation was made in the name of Sandy Bannon.

Members of the committee included: Ed and Lee Turner, Don and Christine Archer, Fred and Joan Chapple, Doug and Heather Johnston, Don and Jesse Pflug and Mary Stiver.

"We couldn't have done it without the support of the entire community," Turner stated. "We thank everyone who helped."

Acting Health Services Board

Board continues to struggle with deficit

hospitals, realistically, is exactly what they submitted.

"The problem with these little hospitals is you don't have very much flexibility. If you've got a budget of $30-million, you've got a whole lot more flexibility in what you can do. In our situations, you don't. I think St. Joe's wanted, partly, to make that point. Loucks added that St. Joseph's may have also been making a pitch for an extra one per cent in funding that was previously available to small hospitals (under 50 beds). With the Minden and Haliburton hospitals under the control of the much larger hospital in Peterborough, the ministry has consistently denied that extra one per cent in funding. Loucks added that the Minden and Haliburton hospitals have been operated as separate entities and St. Joseph's is making the statement that the two small hospitals should qualify for that extra funding.

Loucks points out that even if the ministry were to grant the extra one per cent retroactively, it wouldn't solve the local problems. He said an estimated $193,000 would have been accumulated over the past eight or nine years if the ministry had agreed that the two hospitals qualified for the grant. (The grant was discontinued about a year ago.)

Loucks speculates that by submitting a deficit budget, they (St. Joseph's) were saying that if the ministry had recognized the fact that the Minden and Haliburton hospitals have been operated separately from St. Joseph's and the funding had been made available, the deficits over the years may not have been alleviated, but at least would have been reduced substantially.

Loucks is hopeful that the ministry will accept that argument and provide that $193,000, or a part of it, in a package to help get the two local hospitals back on their feet.

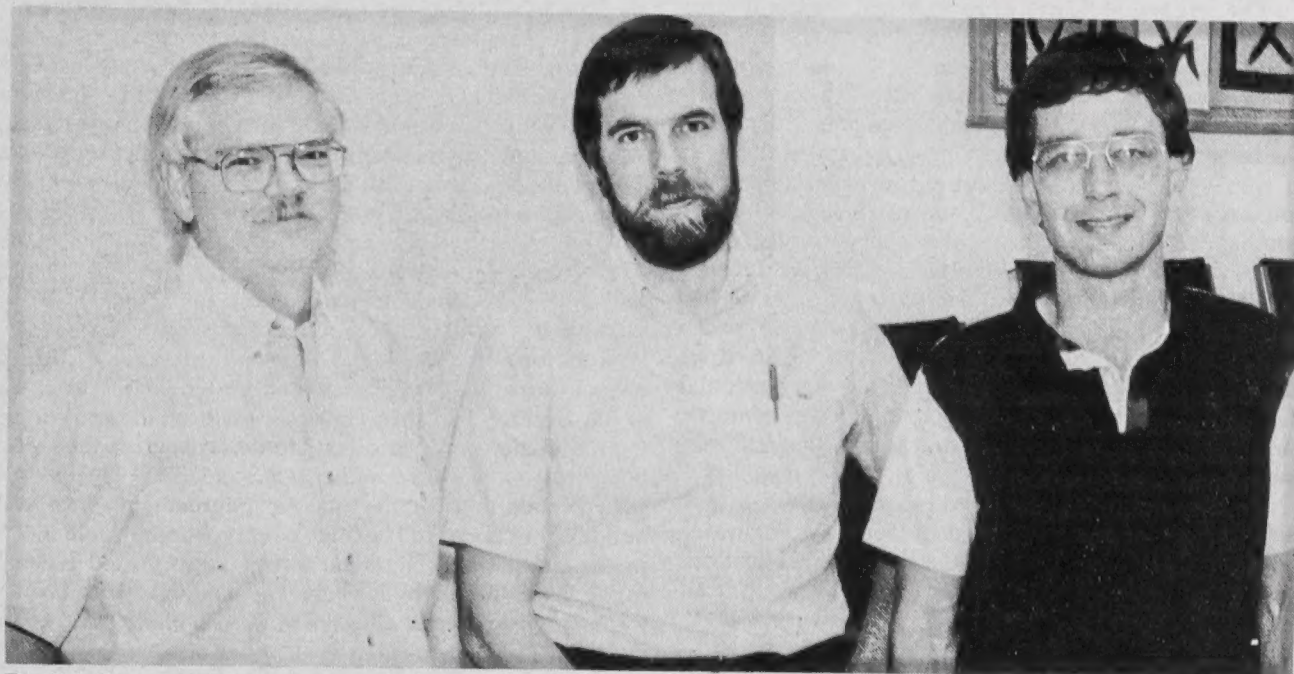

"What is likely to happen, in my opinion, is that the ministry may recognize that argument," he said. "They might argue about whether it's $193,000 or some other number, but it's in that ball park.

"My concern is, to put our hospitals back on their feet, it's going to take more than that. It would certainly be a big help for the current year, but the year's going by pretty quickly and the meter's running."

To sum up, Loucks said: "I think it (submission of the deficit budget) was primarily to underline to the ministry the situation that's actually faced by the two hospitals. So, St. Joe's is saying, if you look just at the operation of the two hospitals, this is what you see.

"Is the ministry expecting St. Joe's to pick up our deficit... roll it all into one? I believe St. Joe's would say that in the past it has done that but it doesn't want to do it any more," Loucks said.

A balanced budget proposal is expected by the ministry by the end of June. Loucks said he doesn't think St. Joseph's is prepared to pick up the tab for the 1995-96 fiscal year. How a balanced budget will be accomplished remains to be seen.

Paul Heffer, centre, took over as chairman of the Acting Health Services Board during the meeting last Wednesday. Stuart Baker was chairman for the past year. Assisting Heffer will be vice chairmen David Coulson, left and Hugh Nichol. Their term will run until June 30, 1996.

"That's what we have to figure out," Loucks said. "We've got some meetings next week where we'll be addressing that very question. At this point, I don't have an answer. We may have to get into some discussion with the ministry about this matter. There have been discussions about cutting services, but how much further can you cut back? We've got one hospital with the in-patient unit closed. It's already a serious situation."

Loucks said that the system of providing health care in the 1950s and '60s can't be expected to work in the '90s. He said that models of care which have been developed in other areas may provide solutions for Haliburton County.

At this point, he says he is not prepared to rule out the possibility of re-opening the in-patient beds at the Minden Hospital. He stressed that the financing problems and the doctor shortage must be addressed before that will happen. He said that there are alternatives that must be explored.

Re-negotiations

Loucks also reported that re-negotiations were under way with Haliburton doctors to reduce the cost of their after-hours stand-by fees. Last November, St. Joseph's Hospital negotiated an agreement whereby doctors who provided after-hours emergency services would receive an hourly rate of monetary compensation to make it more desirable for them to provide that service. Since the number of patients coming through the doors during the period when a doctor's office isn't open is substantially lower, the per-person charge to OHIP wouldn't make it worthwhile for a doctor to provide off-hours emergency stand-by coverage.

As it turned out, the amount paid to doctors for this service was more than St. Joseph's officials felt they could afford.

"It was increasing the deficit position of the Haliburton Hospital, so St. Joe's cancelled the agreement in May," Loucks said. "We're re-negotiating that now and we've come up with a tentative offer, which is still going to end up costing us some money, but it's not going to be as significant or as great as what the previous agreement was.

"In order to preserve emergency services we're guaranteeing a minimum to the doctors, so we are topping up the difference between what they bill OHIP for seeing a patient and what this minimum guaranteed rate is. That difference is coming out of hospital budgets. In the past it didn't. That was never considered a hospital expense. Doctors were always paid out of the OHIP pot."

Loucks said that the Haliburton doctors have indicated that they would be willing to reduce the amount of the minimum guarantee.

"I hope St. Joe's is willing to accept what they (the doctors) and myself have agreed on," Loucks said.

Loucks speculates that the new provincial government is going to look at the funding that is available for health care and determine that there is enough in the system.

"It will have to be re-distributed so that rural Ontario is not disadvantaged," he said.

Board wrestles with budget restraint decisions

by Andrew Milne

The Highlands Little Theatre asked the Haliburton County Board of Education management committee for a break, at the June 13 meeting.

Under a policy in effect since May 1993 controlling school use by non-school groups after hours, the board has been billing the amateur theatre group for their use of the high school auditorium during dress rehearsals and performances. The policy was intended to offset additional custodial costs incurred in such circumstances.

Said Little Theatre member Deborah Dart, "I have a financial statement here for our last play, one we just finished in the spring of 1995, and the bottom shows a profit of $201.90. Your latest bill to us is $1218. If we pay this bill, we are $1000 in the hole for this particular show. At this rate, it's not going to take long before we can no longer exist, thanks to this added financial burden."

Dart asked the committee to recommend the bill be reduced by $559 — the amount of weekdays for which they'd been billed, along with the cost of modifications to the facility's lighting board for which the group itself had paid.

Dart and other members present asked the committee to consider, in making their decision, the contributions made by the group to the community. "We are a community organization made up of members from all over Haliburton County, ranging in age from high school students to senior citizens," she said. "We have over the years put money back into the community as a whole... We feel that a cooperative relationship works better for all parties involved. And we have always had a good rapport not only with the board but with the high school."

Committee members stated, in response, that the policy itself should be reviewed, and moved to recommend that the board (1) review the policy, and (2) suspend the entire bill presented to the little theatre group until such time as the review is completed.

In a different vein, Dart also asked that the board consider another option for the future of the old Victoria Street facility, slated to be abandoned for classroom use as of September, 1997. In Peterborough, and in Cobourg, Dart said, an abandoned church and firehall respectively have been donated to the local theatre groups, which then took it upon themselves to refurbish and maintain their interiors. "Apparently," she said, "We will soon have such a building in our community, Victoria Street School, and I hope that this will be considered."

Cutbacks at ground zero

Anyone wondering what public sector fiscal restraints look like at ground zero could have asked the school board's management committee last Tuesday night. Besides the Little Theatre's petition, the committee deliberated on two other matters related to budget pressures.

The board currently has an agreement with a neighbouring board in Hastings county whereby students in the Cardiff and Highland Grove areas attend Hastings' Bancroft High School. The students had been transported by one of Charles Mullett's buses, paid for by the Haliburton board.

But Hastings also operates buses in the area — two of them, with capacity enough to carry the students. Haliburton is therefore now negotiating with Hastings to transport the students as well, and eliminate one of Mullett's buses — a saving to the board of around $25,000 annually, according to superintendent of business Jim Bradley.

At their June 13 meeting, the board heard from Mullett.

He asked whether the board expected the decision would also serve students who might later attend the high school from the Harcourt region. He also said his carrier currently transports a number of people outside the school system, who are accustomed to using the buses for transportation. Hastings, he said, might not be so accommodating.

The committee made no motion in response. Members seemed to feel the board's earlier decision to cut the route in favour of having the neighbouring Hastings board carry the load was reasonable.

It's a catch-22, and a familiar one. Boards across the province have been encouraged to reduce costs wherever possible by entering into these kinds of cooperative agreements with neighbouring boards.

But cutbacks of any kind — however carefully done — generally hurt someone.

Mullett also noted in his statement to the board that apart from his concerns, the agreement does seem logical on the surface, and seems like a serious attempt to save money.

Finally, the committee heard a request from a student living in the Dorset area who wishes to attend high school in Haliburton. Students in the Dorset area, though served by the Haliburton County board at a local facility for elementary school purposes, normally attend high school in Huntsville, as per agreement with the Muskoka board.

The student's request for transportation would have required the Haliburton County board to extend a bus route to Dorset. The committee did not feel this was realistic in view of the expenses it would involve, but advised administration to converse with the student regarding other possible options.

School boards, with hefty expenses, a large share of which are levied locally, have increasingly come under pressure in recent years to keep those expenses down. During the 1994 budget process, the Haliburton County board came under pressure from a ratepayers' coalition to control spending, and has since been extremely sensitive when discussing spending.

In its most recent budget, the board announced planned expenditures resulting in a hike in local rates of over four percent, but points out that much of this was due to cutbacks in their grant from the provincial government rather than actual budget increases.

"Aftercare is one of the most important services a funeral home can offer."

"Many people don't know where to turn after the loss of a loved one. Oftentimes, family and friends aren't sure what they can do or say to help. That's why we have formed a grief recovery group.

While a support group doesn't make problems disappear, it does give people a chance to talk with others who are experiencing similar emotions.

It's important that people find a way to express their grief and learn to deal with it. That's when the healing begins."

O'Reilly in Washington when gun vote was held

When the vote was taken last week, O'Reilly was in Washington with an agricultural delegation.

Peter Hynard, one of the organizers of the gun rally at the high school in Haliburton said: "Sure I'm disappointed. And so are the other 1,100 Victoria-Haliburton gun owners who heard John promise to vote no. No one likes to see a politician make promises he can't keep, or break the promises he's made. And John O'Reilly did both."

"I think he (O'Reilly) has betrayed us. He's lied to us," Ted Vasey, president of the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association said. "He told us at our rally and at numerous other times that he'd be there for us."

"I'm sure that his presence in Washington was more important than a major issue in Canada," Vasey added with an obvious tone of sarcasm in his voice. "I'm really mad and I know lots of people who feel the same way. He's outright told us he was on our side and he disappeared twice (O'Reilly wasn't there for the vote at the second reading either). He wasn't on our side when it came down to the crunch."

A call to O'Reilly's office in Ottawa, requesting a few minutes to speak with him resulted in a faxed reply to a letter which was sent by this reporter, as a private citizen, on May 25. The letter offered encouragement for the stand on behalf of the gun owners of Victoria-Haliburton.

O'Reilly replied: "It had become very clear to me that the bill would pass no matter what I did."

He continued that he has spoken to the Standing Committee on Justice and Legal Affairs on behalf of his constituents and that he has been widely quoted by the media "expressing my opposition to Bill C-68."

In short, I have stood up to the Minister of Justice and have felt the "heat" for my actions."

Responding to a request to vote no on the third reading, he said: "I must ask you to weigh the consequences of such action and ask the following questions: Will your Member of Parliament be able to be as effective as he is now? Will he have access to all the Members of Cabinet as he has now?" O'Reilly went on to take credit for negotiating $30-million in infrastructure grants and other government funding as a Liberal MP for the riding. (Applications for the Infrastructure Program are made by municipalities with the federal and provincial governments each providing one-third of the funding.)

"In closing," O'Reilly continued, "I am confident that I must remain an effective Member of Parliament for Victoria-Haliburton, at whatever the personal cost to me. Being a Member of Parliament means representing all the riding, not just a particular segment or special interest group. It is my intention to continue as a Liberal in a majority government and bring in every dollar that benefits Victoria-Haliburton."

"Fortunately, or unfortunately, I was in Washington as part of an agriculture delegation and missed the vote. However, I was paired with another Member of Parliament which leaves my record intact as opposed to the bill." (Pairing is when two MPs whose votes are opposite on an issue are both absent for a vote. The theory is that their votes would have cancelled each other and therefore neither's absence would make a difference in the vote.)

Permits cancelled

Due to hot dry conditions, all burning permits in the area have been cancelled by the Ministry of Natural Resources. Fires, other than those for heat or cooking, are not permitted until conditions improve and the ban is lifted.

Police investigate body found in park

The Ontario Provincial Police are currently investigating the discovery of skeletal remains found in the southwest area of Algonquin Park.

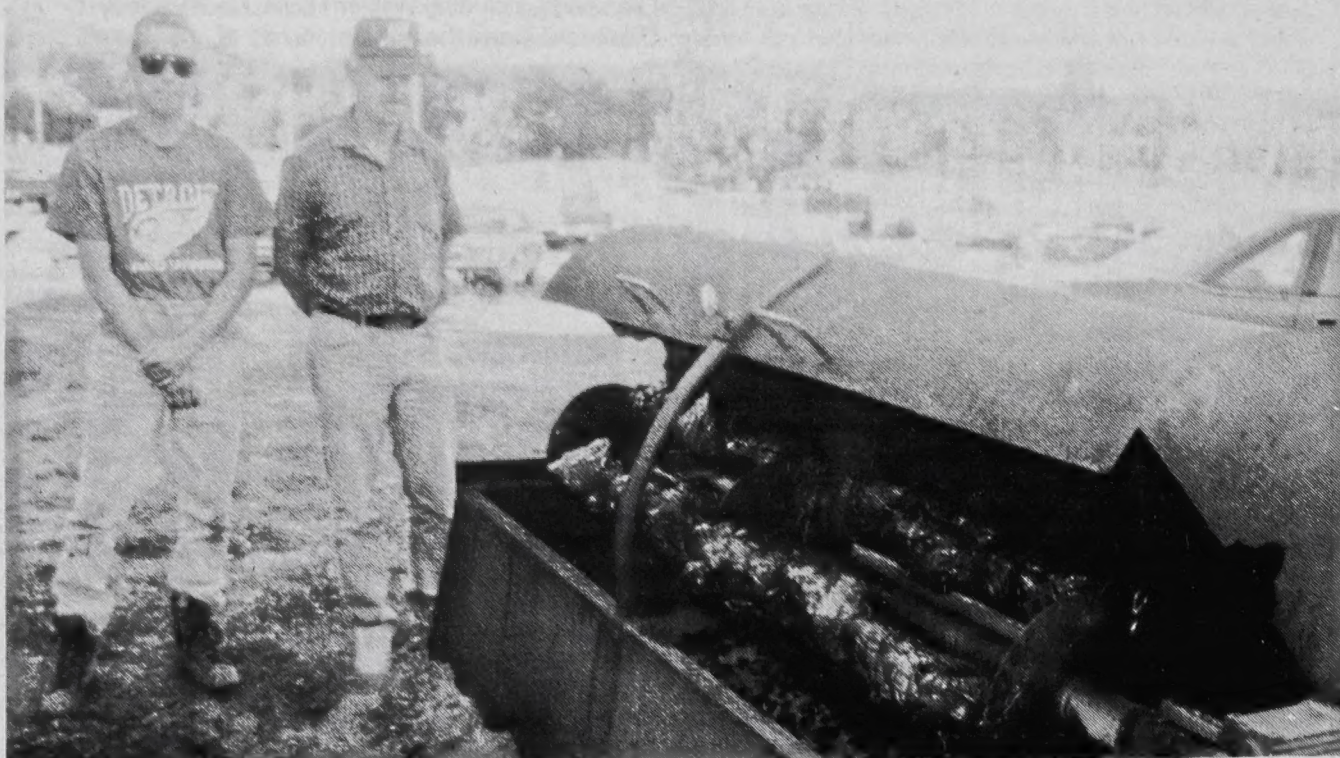

According to the police, the remains, which appear to have been there for some time, were discovered by a camper last week. A forensic anthropologist from Toronto is assisting with the investigation. Police have not ruled out the possibility of foul play.

Pre-trial date set

Frank Wallace, the Haliburton high school teacher charged with sexual exploitation, has tentatively agreed on a pre-trial hearing date of September 12.

The date was set June 7, following Wallace's lawyer's receipt of disclosure of evidence from the Crown.

Wallace has been charged with five counts of the offence, and the OPP reports the allegations involve a single female victim.

Right on 'que

Chefs Jim Smith and Ken Cox watched the roasts slowly cooking last Saturday evening at the Haliburton county Agricultural Society's annual beef barbecue and dance. According to the organizers, the event was well attended.

The absent MP

There is little doubt that the recently passed gun control legislation is a highly charged, emotional issue across Canada as well as here in Victoria-Haliburton. That point became self-evident earlier this year when hundreds of opponents of the bill rallied at the high school to demonstrate their opposition. It was further accentuated when local Liberals chose to cancel an appearance by Justice Minister Alan Rock in Lindsay at a fund raising dinner. The opponents of the bill had promised to mount a demonstration outside the hall to reiterate their feelings on the matter.

Other evidence of the depth of feeling in the riding can be found in talking to recently defeated Provincial Liberal candidate Sharon McCrae. Even though the legislation was being enacted at the federal level, during her door to door campaign she was constantly confronted by the issue and told on a number of occasions that the voters intended to use the provincial vote to send a message to Ottawa. It would be difficult to ascribe McCrae's loss to that issue alone, but she has little doubt that it played an important role in how voters in the riding viewed her candidacy.

Throughout the debate, Victoria-Haliburton MP John O'Reilly has been vocal in his opposition to the registration provisions of the bill. He was a featured speaker at rallies and was sought out by the national media as a Liberal who was not towing the party line.

It is not hard, then, to appreciate the frustration of these people who feel their elected representative let them down by not being in the house to record his opposition to the legislation.

Since O'Reilly had taken such a clear stand on the issue, and since his election success was based in part on his position regarding this legislation, we can understand the sense of betrayal this sector of his constituency must feel. Whether or not one agrees with his stand on the issue, ducking out on this crucial vote was a disservice to those who elected him to represent their interests and the platform he espoused during and since the election campaign.

Re: "Signs, Signs, everywhere a sign" (The Times, June 12):

What's wrong with signs? The most prosperous place on earth, Hong Kong, has millions of them. The whole place is covered with signs. But of course, they have little government interference, while Canada is strangled to death with it. Our lives are regulated down to the smallest detail, federally, provincially and locally. You want to do something you have to fill out a pile of applications and them stand hat in hand in front of a bunch of small minded tinpot dictators that have probably never been further away than they could see their mother's chimney.

The river is an attraction? Well--it couldn't be much of an attraction if a few signs would divert people's attention away from it. And does the river make any money? Businesses do, you know, and for all the different governments. In case the council doesn't know, signs are a form of advertising, and to be successful in business you have to use them all.

Richard Milewski spent quite a bit of money building his bakery and now he can't even put up a lousy sign to tell people where he is. Darryl Moore is afraid of problems. Problems you solve or ignore. If he is afraid of problems, he is in the wrong business, and for that matter, I think they all are. We won't have any progress with that kind of attitude. "After a lengthy discussion...allowing a single finger-board sign..."

My God. What a bunch, in my opinion, of small minded knuckleheads.

K.C. Dam,
Lutterworth Township.

Too much smoke

Editor:

My husband and I attended the Timbersport Festival in Minden, which we very much enjoyed.

We also attended the very delicious Beef Barbecue dinner and dance. We felt the dinner was very organized, as well as the dance, but were very disappointed in the number of cigarette smokers in your town. At the dance, we had to move three times as smoke filled our eyes.

In our area, we now realize they must be trained well in public school, as very few teenagers smoke anymore.

Correction

We goofed, and added an extra zero to the report on the Kinmount Railway Trek in last week's edition. The amount reported in our story was $9600. It should have read $960. We apologise for the confusion. Dianne Austin updated the total this week and the walkers raised $1110. The money will be used to assist with the development of the Kinmount Heritage Park project.

O'Reilly explains his stand

The following is the response sent by Victoria-Haliburton Member of Parliament John O'Reilly on June 16 to a constituent inquiring about his absence from the House of Commons during the vote on third reading of the legislation (Bill C-68) to control firearms in Canada.

The facts are very simple to explain.

First, there will probably not be enough changes to Bill C-68 to meet your demands. Prime Minister Jean Chretien and the Minister of Justice Alan Rock are determined to have a national gun registry.

Second, not all Reformers are voting against the Bill. Most of the Bloc Quebecois are in favour of the Bill. As it stands, 45 Reform members voted against and 33 Bloc Quebecois voted in favour of it. That leaves 177 Liberals with nine members paired and nine rural members who voted against this bill.

It had become very clear to me that the bill would pass no matter what I did. I have spoken to the standing committee on Justice and Legal Affairs, on behalf of the people of Victoria-Haliburton, and it was carried on CBC, CTV, Newsworld and other networks. I also appeared on Don Newman's Capital Report for an eight minute interview. I was interviewed by various media outlets and stories in all the major newspapers in Canada expressing my opposition to Bill C-68.

Maclean's Magazine carried two articles on my views. In short, I have stood up to the Minister of Justice and have felt the 'heat' for my actions.

You asked me to vote "no" on third reading, "no matter what happens", even if it was not a free vote. I must ask you to weigh the consequences of such action and ask the following questions:

"Fortunately, or unfortunately I was in Washington as part of an agriculture delegation..."

- Will your Member of Parliament be able to be as effective as he is now?
- Will he have access to all members of Cabinet as he has now?
- Did he negotiate over $30 million in infrastructure as a Liberal or the other money items benefiting the riding, for example:

-funding for S.I.R.C.H. in Haliburton County.

-the Lindsay Airpark landing system.

-infrastructure projects that include funding: in the Township of Lutterworth of $152,388; Haliburton County Board of Education- $236,782; Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden- $1,187,154; Haliburton County administration building- $2,400,000; Stanhope Township- $463,857; Dysart et al- $1,000,000; and Glamorgan-$122,250, to name but a few.

In closing, I am confident that I must remain an effective Member of Parliament for Victoria-Haliburton at whatever the personal cost to me.

When I was elected, I gave up a lot of my personal life, family life and friends to go to Ottawa and to do the very best for the people who placed their trust in me. Being a member of Parliament means representing all the riding, not just a particular segment or special interest group. It is my intention to continue as a Liberal in a majority government and bring in every dollar that benefits Victoria-Haliburton.

Fortunately, or unfortunately, I was in Washington as part of an agriculture delegation and missed the vote. However, I was paired with another Member of Parliament which leaves my record intact as opposed to the bill.

I hope to gain your trust in my decisions.

I hope to gain your trust in my decisions.

Member of Parliament
Victoria-Haliburton.

Canada's national bird should be the grouse.

Anonymous

Okay, fellow Canucks...all together now, in three-part harmony, ah-one and ah-two and ah-three...

Let's bitch.

Let's whine, let's complain, let's beat our breasts and gnash our teeth and tell each other one more time how miserable it is to be Canadian.

The country's too cold, too big, too developed, too raw. The inhabitants are too coarse, too nice, too unimaginative.

Our politicians stink. Our armed forces are a joke. We don't make very good wine. We'd rather watch Three's Company on the boob tube than Colm Fiore on the Stratford stage.

Our taxes are too high. Our wages are too low.

Our golfers never win the PGA. Our tennis players blow it at Wimbledon. Our nags always fade in the stretch in the Kentucky Derby. We can't even keep an NHL franchise in Quebec City.

Then there's Quebec, always threatening to leave home and asking for the car keys. There's Newfoundland, an economic basket case. There's the West, ever ready to mount up and ride off into the sunset with the Preston Manning posse.

There's the robber barons of Bay Street, bleeding the rest of the country white.

Oh, it's pretty tough, living in Canada, right?

You think so? Tell it to Alfred Nasser.

Alfred's not hard to track down. You'll find him sitting on a plastic bench at the Charles De Gaulle airport in Paris.

Terminal One, Boutique Level, to be precise.

How do I know he's there? Easy. That's where he's been for the past six years.

Mister Nasser's predicament -- his nightmare -- began with the accident of his birth. He was born in 1944, in part of Iran which was under British jurisdiction at the time. Because of the British connection he got to leave Iran to go to university in Britain when he was 18. But when he returned to Iran he was declared a traitor and thrown in jail. The Iranians eventually let him out, but confiscated his passport and gave him exit papers.

It meant he could leave Iran, but he couldn't return. Mister Nasser appealed to the United Nations. The U.N. Office granted him asylum and gave him precious papers that allowed him to apply for any country in Europe.

Which is when Nasser's bad luck really started to unfold.

His papers were in a suitcase which was stolen in Paris. Mister Nasser got a flight to London, but the British refused to take him. They popped him right back on to a flight bound for Charles De Gaulle airport.

That was in 1988. Mister Nasser is still at the airport. He sits on his plastic bench, guarding a luggage cart which holds all his worldly possessions -- a cardboard suitcase, some garbage bags full of clothes and a diary that now runs to 6000 pages.

Flight attendants know him -- they should, after six years -- and they keep him supplied with shaving kits, toothbrushes and soap. Some of them also give him their meal tickets. Alfred Nasser cat washes in the airport washroom, reads newspapers from the trash cans, watches TV in the airport lounge.

"What I want" he says, "is a passport."

But in the grand new European community of communities, there is not one country willing to give him the little book he needs.

He's broke, but he's honest. Twice now, Alfred Nasser has turned in billfolds full of money that passengers have lost.

"It's not a good solution to live a long time like this" says Nasser, in the understatement of the year. "Living without a bed and without a room -- it's depressing."

Probably even worse than being Canadian.

You want to do something positive? Drop Nasser a line. His address is Charles De Gaulle airport, Terminal One, Boutique Level, Paris, France.

Enclose a few bucks, if you're feeling flush.

And then count your blessings. Starting with that little blue book with your name in it.

Retiring music teacher Bill Gliddon was presented with a batik of Victoria Street School, the building in which he started his education and one of the schools in the county to which he returned to teach music. Principal Judy Tomlinson-Ross, right, made the presentation while Bill's mother, Gladys, left, looked on.

Music teacher retires

Staff and students say adieu to Bill Gliddon

by Misty Bennett

The students of Victoria Street School in Haliburton and staff from throughout the school system, bid a fond farewell to Mr. Bill Gliddon Saturday afternoon (June 10). A tea was held at the school in honour of the music teacher's retirement.

The main ceremonies were held in the same classroom where Gliddon spent his first year of school. The room was decorated by the students who drew posters commemorating their favourite music teacher. As well, bulletin boards created by the students offered suggestions for Gliddon's retirement, while another was entitled "Why I like Mr. Gliddon."

Gliddon spent his entire school career in Haliburton County schools. After leaving high school he attended the University of Toronto where he earned his Bachelor of Arts in Music Composition. He was quick, however, to return to this area and "bring back his beautiful gift of music," stated Principal Judy Tomlinson-Ross, as she made her congratulatory speech in honour of Gliddon.

The students of Victoria Street School celebrated Gliddon in song, performing a variety of songs for the teacher and his mother who also attended. Gliddon was also presented with a batik, created by Mary Wallace, depicting Victoria Street School.

When asked what he plans to do with his free time, Gliddon admitted with a chuckle that cleaning up his room is the number one priority and that may take the first five years!

"I hope to still be very much a part of music in my church and in community musical events as well," he said. And, when he can find a quiet moment, he hopes to work on some of his own musical compositions.

Young poet

Grade ten student at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, Sarah Rochford of Minden, has become a published poet once again. This is the third time that Sarah has had one of her poems included in an anthology published by the National Library of Poetry in the USA. Her poem is entitled Convince Myself and according to the 16 year old author relates "feelings of the heart". She has been writing poetry for five years. Most of her work deals with people and feelings.

Toni Carr chosen "Judge of the Year" for Eastern Ontario

The Eastern Ontario Section chose Toni Carr as the 1994-95 recipient of the Judge of the Year Award. The award was presented at the Minden Skating Club's annual general meeting.

This volunteer skating award is presented to someone who has judged skaters and has volunteered in other areas of skating.

Carr fits these criteria very well. She has been the technical representative for many skating competitions, she gives primary competitive judging seminars, helped organize and was registrar for the first Eastern Ontario Sectional Invitational. This invitational included the Junior World Trials, in which Carr played an important role.

As a skating judge, Carr is well-known across the province and she is always approachable. She is vice-chair of the Eastern Ontario Section and has just been appointed judges' chairperson for the section.

Even after volunteering as much time as she does, Carr still finds time to serve as a director for the Minden Skating Club. She is always a source of up-to-date information and encouragement to the executive members. She ensures that skaters are included in seminars for the advancement of skating knowledge.

The Minden Skating Club is very proud of Carr's accomplishments. This award is well deserved.

TOP JUDGE: Toni Carr of Minden has been presented with the prestigious Eastern Ontario Section Judge's Award.

Coboconk, Cambray fall to bantam B Royals' bats

by Jerry Grozelle

Two more have been added to the wins column of the Minden bantam B Royals' hardball team.

A June 9 game at Coboconk saw the Royals come home with a 3-1 win.

Cam Neville pitched the first three innings. He struck out three Coboconk batters while giving up one walk and two hits. Colin Mackenzie took over on the mound for the last two frames. He fanned one opposing batter and didn't allow any walks or hits.

Coboconk gave up 12 walks in five innings. The Royals only had one hit in the game, a double by Neville.

The Minden boys played a strong defensive game. Shortstop Ryan Dawson made several excellent defensive plays. Brock Ladurantaye and Gord MacDougall shared the catching duties and both boys played well behind the plate.

A game scheduled for June 11 against the Cambray #2 team was rained out.

The Royals played in Cambray on June 14 against the #1 team, adding another win to their record.

Mackenzie was on the mound for the Royals for the first two innings. He allowed just three hits in the two frames. Neville took over for the next four innings, scattering four hits and two walks while striking out five. He aided his own cause with a pick-off play at second base.

Things looked bad for the Royals in the sixth inning when Cambray had the bases loaded with none out. But the team maintained its composure, retiring the side while allowing just one runner to score.

Defensively, Ryan Dawson continued to shine as short stop, as did Aiden McKnight at second base. Mike Hamilton and Taylor Goodman made key catches in the outfield on hits that would have been good for extra bases.

Dawson led the offense with the team's first home run of the season, a grand slam. MacDougall contributed to the win with a pair of hits, while Mackenzie, Neville, Andrew Graham, Adam Agget, Aaron Gibbons and Goodman had one hit apiece.

Those two wins improved the team's record to four and two.

Midget A Royals edge Woodville 3-2, beat Coby 9-5

by Jerry Grozelle

Chris Eskeline struck out the first three batters he faced when the Minden midget A Royals played host to Woodville on June 11. He was the winning pitcher, racking up four more strike-outs over the next three innings as the Royals earned a 3-2 win over Woodville.

Woodville broke the scoreless draw in the top of the fourth inning, stringing together a double, two walks and a single for one run.

The Royals responded in the home half of the fourth. With two out and Darren Mills and Justin Rowden on base, Eskeline ripped a single, driving in Mills and Rowden. He later came around to score, giving Minden a 3-1 lead.

Rowden took over on the mound in the fifth. He picked up two strike-outs as the Woodville batters were three up, and three down.

The Royals suffered the same fate in the bottom of the fifth.

The Royals turned a double play in the next frame and Woodville went scoreless, leaving one man on base.

Dwight Bryant led off the home half of the sixth with a single, but the next three Minden batters were retired, leaving Bryant stranded at third.

Three singles in the top of the seventh inning produced one run for Woodville, but the Royals kept the visitors from tying the score.

Time limitations ended the game after the seventh and Minden held on for the 3-2 win.

Rowden picked up one more strike-out in the seventh.

Minden 9, Coboconk 5

The Royals went to Coboconk last Wednesday, adding a 9-5 win to their season record. They didn't waste any time getting on the scoreboard in Coby, scoring five runs in the first inning.

Tom Bagshaw led off with a bunt single. Justin Rowden followed with a double, then Jeff Wray walked, Sheamus Donnery doubled, Eskeline followed with a double.

When Donnery came around to score, the mercy rule ended Minden's side of the frame with a five-run tally.

Rowden started the game on the mound for the Royals. He fanned the first two batters, allowed a single and struck out the next batter to leave one stranded on base.

Bryant led off the second with a single. He stole second, but was later caught trying to steal third. A strike-out and a fielder's choice ended the inning for the Minden squad.

Rowden gave up four hits and a walk in the bottom of the second for two Coby runs. He struck out one.

Rowden helped make up for the two opposing runs by scoring one himself in the top of the third. After taking a walk and advancing to third, he stole home. Donnery got on base with a bunt single and Gavin Gartshore took a free base when he was hit by a pitch. Both were left stranded and after two and a half frames, Minden led 6-2.

With one out in the bottom of the third, a single, a walk and a home run produced three runs for the home side. The next Coby batter hit a single, but was caught stealing. Two more singles put the tying and go-ahead runs on base, but Rowden fanned the next batter to end the threat.

Minden added three more to its side of the scoreboard in the top of the fourth. A single by Bryant and walks by Jamie Swinson, Mills and Bagshaw resulted in a run walked in. They were followed with a two-run single by Rowden, who was left stranded when the next two Minden batters were retired.

Eskeline took over on the mound for the bottom of the fourth. He struck the first two batters out. The next man was issued with a walk but Eskeline fanned the next one to end the inning.

The Royals mounted another threat in the fifth. With one out, Gartshore slammed a triple. He was left stranded when the next two flied out.

Coby was held off the board in the home half of the inning and the game ended after five frames with Minden in front 9-5.

Home games for the midget a Royals are Sundays, starting at noon at the ball diamond behind the Minden Arena.

Grextion honoured for her dedication to Skating Club

Leitha Grextion was presented with a plaque for her 12 years of volunteer service to the Minden Skating Club. The presentation was made at the club's annual general meeting.

She has held several positions with the Minden Skating Club as well as donating countless volunteer hours in unofficial club business. During her time as fundraising chair, the club enjoyed some of its most profitable sales ventures. She also performed the duties of treasurer diligently.

Grextion is probably best known as the "Candy Lady". As the owner of Leitha's Sweets and Treats, the club has turned to her for many goodies for Christmas, Valentine's Day and other special events. The interesting little bag of candies is always a special treat for the skaters. Thoughtful little gifts are continually being given out to the other volunteers as well.

Grextion has been involved in every major function the club has hosted, including carnivals, "Meet to Skate" competitions, pancake breakfasts and others.

She has always worked for the betterment of the whole club with encouraging words for skaters and volunteers alike. She gives her time and energy freely and will be missed a great deal next year.

Grextion has retired from the club's executive. Her daughter is graduating from high school and will be attending school elsewhere.

She was named volunteer of the year for the 1994-95 season.

12 YEARS' SERVICE: Leitha Grextion is retiring after 12 years with the Minden Skating Club. She has held several offices on the club executive and has been a tireless volunteer.

Daniels not only shone on the mound, he also slammed a bases-loaded home run in the third inning to put the game away.

Royals home run king Matt Cheeseman ended a two-game drought with a two-run shot earlier in the third.

The Royals will play a double-header at home on Sunday, June 25, starting with a 10 a.m. game against Woodville, followed by a game against Oakwood.

All home games are played at the Minden arena ball diamonds on Sundays.

Perfect weather highlights senior curlers' day on the golf course

by Dave McAdam

The Minden Seniors Curling Club has now played out its spring golf tournament with a day of super weather, great fun, and competition on the lush, green fairways of the Beaverbrook nine. As noted, Mother Nature could not have been kinder to the golfers. There was a warm bright sun which gave them comfort in their light, summery cotton garb, yet just enough cool breeze blowing to keep the blackflies and mosquitos struggling with a head wind sufficient to prevent three point landings by them onto all the bare flesh runways.

Jack Harrington managed to put together teams from the club membership, but he just had to park himself right at the first tee-off where us duffers usually manage, under the stress of the critical eyes of the club house pros, to blow that first drive and set down either on the practice putting green or score a hole in one at the flag on the third green. We believe this is what Bill Milford did even without his glasses.

Convenor Hugh Hamilton organized an afternoon of socializing at the Club. He had a committee of barbecue cooks who prepared some beautiful lean ground beef into tasty curler burgers and, in some other cases, into nice, round, carbon-building bricks. We haven't heard yet of any of the diners reporting to Minden's 24 hour poison control service, so we can safely assume all were suitably fed. That kid in the Bible that fed the multitude with a few fish and loaves has nothing on Hugh Hamilton and his food servers who included Ann McAdam, Ruth Hamilton, and Ruth Bishop.

When it came to handing out the golfing accolades, the team of Larry Loughheed, Phil Graham, Marjorie Windover and Bob Hurtle took first place with a low score of 35. Second place went to the team of George Hewitt, Jean Jackson, Doreen Bullied and Bern Berry with a score of 36. The third place team of Russ Fair, Lois Adamson, John Warren and Jack Robson also had a low score of 36.

Lastly, an award was given to the team of Joan Davies, Ross Codlin and Tony Dymott for the highest score (not to be reported). The award was for total honesty and we think the prize might have been pocket editions of the Bible.

In the tournament the following golfers received marksmanship awards as follows. Ladies: longest drive - Iris Drewell, closest to the hole - Merle Codlin. Men: longest drive - George Hewitt, closest to the hole - Stan Hill.

Having had a wonderful day, we believe the members will be looking forward to the fall golf tournament which will be held at Blairhampton on September 7 under the T.L.C. of Gord Arthur, our ladies' man.

Walk for Water raises close to $5000

The 12th annual Walk for Water in Haliburton, sponsored by HAVE (Help A Village Effort) raised about $5,000 in pledges by 36 walkers.

Funds raised from the event are used to help provide drinking water wells in rural India.

Chairperson of the 1995 walk, Kathy Sweeney, said she was impressed with the enthusiasm of the volunteers and the walkers. Although it rained while the walk was in progress, Sweeney said there were no complaints.

"It was very successful," Sweeney said. "We were quite happy with the turnout."

Other donations are expected besides the pledges from the Walk For Water event itself. Last year, the total was in the neighbourhood of $10,000. Sweeney said the actual dollar figure for this year won't be known for a while yet.

"We know we'll get $5,000 from the walk, plus whatever comes in after that," she said. "We'll be happy if it's as high as last year."

"The money goes directly to counterpart agencies in India and they drill wells for fresh water," Sweeney said. "It's a rural thing. The tendency over there is to neglect a lot of the rural areas, so these people are literally dying because they don't have fresh water and because of all the water-borne diseases."

Sweeney says she hopes the money raised locally will be matched by CIDA (Canadian International Development Agency).

Toilet problem solved

Responding to the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden's denial of the use of its portable toilet for the walk, Minden Home Hardware donated the material and volunteers Keith Hill and Fred Elson (and a few others) built a portable toilet. The problem of arranging for a portable toilet for the event has now been solved.

"With the spirit of voluntarism and the generosity of Home Hardware, we've overcome that problem," Sweeney said.

A romance by correspondence

After 50 years, this war bride has few regrets

by Andrew Milne

Isabella (Isa) and Richard (Dick) Hilyer met in Traquaire, Scotland, a village near Edinburgh, in 1944.

She had been raised there. He was a Canadian serviceman from the Bobcaygeon area, serving in the 6th anti-tank artillery, and on leave.

Says Isabella, "This man in Traquaire had a cottage, where he would entertain the soldiers and anybody who wanted to come. Well, the families in the community would also invite the fellows out for supper."

She laughs. "And of course the girls were always there to escort them around. My sister was being married to a Canadian, and they held a dance for her, and that night they had invited all the fellows who were on leave at the time."

Isabella is a war bride — one of the many young women who met and married the young Canadian members of the armed forces who were stationed in Great Britain during World War II. "There were a lot of them," says Richard, "But then there were a lot of young men a long way from home, and a lot of young women. It's not too surprising."

Isabella and Richard were ready to walk down the aisle by the summer of 1944, but the war intervened.

"We were going to get married in June of that year," she says, "and then he received his orders and was shipped over to Europe from Britain. He was there for a year."

Richard went back to the continent to be a part of the force which liberated Holland. The day before the war ended in Europe, his unit had been prepared to press the attack along the North Sea coast and recapture the towns occupied by German forces.

However, that night, the Germans surrendered. Says Richard, "We had planned to move out the next morning...and we did anyway, but we didn't take any armour. We travelled in jeeps. The German soldiers piled all their arms in the middle of the streets and surrendered. There was no action at all. They were just standing on the street."

"And then that afternoon," he continues, "the tanks were brought out of their hiding places... rows and rows of them. There really would have been a scrap if it ever had come to that... There were two men in each tank — the driver and the guy in charge, and he rode on top with a white flag, as they trailed the Nazi flag in the dust behind them."

The war naturally put a crimp in their courting. Much of the romance, says Isabella, had to be done by correspondence. The couple has few pictures of themselves together before their wedding.

Isabella and Richard were married in the church in

Traquaire in April of 1945, a month before the end of the war. Richard came back to Canada early in 1946, and Isabella followed later that year. Richard purchased a 56 acre farm between Minden and Kinmount. They worked the land with a team of horses for the first few years, before purchasing a tractor. The land, having never had machinery on it, took some breaking in.

Isabella had never been outside Scotland before. "It wasn't as big a change for me as it was for some," she says, "because I had been raised in the country. I belonged in the country."

Yes, she says, she misses her family, but her sister lives in Ontario too, and she visits back and forth now and then.

And Canada welcomed her. "I fit right in," she says. Her family did worry though. As did some of her newfound Canadian friends.

"Everyone wondered why I was going to such a god-forsaken place," she says. "Even people round about here wondered. But it's only a mile in here. At that time, though, it wasn't much of a road."

Obviously content with the decision they made, Isabella and Richard look back and laugh at the events that brought them together and to the place they have called home for nearly 50 years.

Legion hosts war bride tea

War brides from throughout the Highlands are invited to a tea being held this Friday at the Haliburton Legion Hall.

The tea is one of a number of events planned this year to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the end of World War II.

"A special program is planned as a dedication to these women and men," organizer Jan Shipley said. "The tea will provide an opportunity to get together with others to remember the good times and the special challenges faced by these women. The tea is also open to ex-servicewomen."

The tea is sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of Branch 129 and will begin at noon.

Once again pilots from Stanhope Airport donated their time and aircraft to introduce young people to the excitement of flying in light airplanes. The Young Eagles program is part of a continent-wide effort in which youngsters between the ages of 8 and 17 are invited to see the world from a whole new perspective and get perhaps their first taste of flying. This year over 90 youngsters took advantage of the offer and joined the five volunteers in the skies over the Highlands. The Young Eagles program hopes to introduce one million youngsters to flying by the end of the decade. These two youngsters were obviously looking forward to the opportunity as they settled in before take off.

Eastern Star ladies host tea

Sunday, June 4th, do I dare tell how old she is? Winnifred Barnum celebrated her 85 birthday. Her family had a party for her in the auditorium. Several of her friends attended. It was a joyous occasion for Winnie.

Monday morning 12 residents, Doris, Linda and ten volunteers boarded the bus for a shopping spree in Lindsay. We went to Zellers mall. It was a beautiful day for the trip. Don't know why, but the majority of us headed for the restaurant first. It seems to be number one on the priority list. We had a great time.

In the evening the Salvation Army entertained in the main lounge.

Tuesday morning Rev. Parker conducted chapel. It was a communion service.

In the afternoon the folks attended crafts. We were working on several projects. Finally took the quilt off the frame. In the evening Pearl and Corinne assisted several folks at euchre.

Wednesday morning the residents limbered up with a fitness session under the direction of Doris and Janice.

lows.

Thursday was election day. A poll booth was located at Hyland Crest. It made it very handy for the residents.

In the afternoon the Eastern Star ladies provided a lovely tea party for the folks. Rev. Burgess and Pat Scott assisted.

Happy hour was well attended on Friday afternoon. Eldon Deacon and Don White provided the great entertainment.

On Saturday Kathleen Owen played the keyboard in the main lounge. In the afternoon there was a fashion show. It was a fund raiser for Hyland Crest.

Sunday evening Rev. Burgess delivered the message at chapel service.

Thanks to one and all who helped to make this week a pleasant experience at Hyland Crest. Even a short visit means a lot to some.

Trivia: The average person will drink about 16,000 gallons of water in a lifetime.

In the afternoon Pearl called bingo for the folks. Mabel Deacon assisted. In the afternoon Bill and the boys sang and played their instruments. Thanks fel-

HALIBURTON COUNTY HOME BUILDERS' ASSOCIATION

TSW report

The large fall of rain on June 2 and 3 drove the Haliburton lakes to an average of 101% by Monday June 5. This declined to 96% by June 12, which is near the 20 year average for that date.

More normal levels and flows are now occurring throughout the Haliburton area, and flow is receding in the Kawarthas as well.

As a result of the reduced flows, the locks at Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls were re-opened this past week. However boaters are still advised to exercise caution, particularly near control dams, because of the strong currents. (Report issued June 14)

Program targets aggressive drivers

Enforcement of traffic laws will receive special emphasis from now until July 3, according to a press release issued by the Ministry of Transportation. In particular, the campaign will be targeting what the ministry refers to as aggressive drivers.

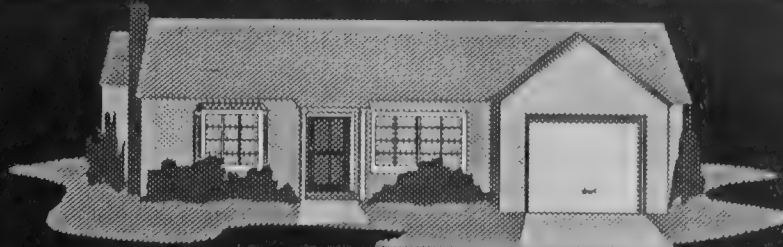

"Aggressive driving includes bad habits such as speeding, following too close, impaired driving, failing to yield the right of way, improper lane changing, improper passing and disobeying traffic signs and signals," the press release noted. "The objective of this year's campaign is to increase drivers' awareness and understanding of the role they play in improving road safety."

The release points out that 85% of all collisions are caused by aggressive driving practices and contribute greatly to the 1100 people who die each year on Ontario highways and the 90,000 who are injured. The social cost of these mishaps is estimated to be $9 billion.

Police services across the province will be backing the campaign, including detachments of the Ontario Provincial Police with their own education and enforcement programs.

Grade eight players

Junior theatre

The grade 4, 5 and 6 students had fun with a satirical send up of the academy award winning movie, A Tree Grows in Hollywood, giving the production an ecological twist. The audience received a little prompting from the host, right, as Amanada Gartshore and Peter Fast, left, performed.

New president for 636

Here we are in the middle of June...soon the kids will be out for the summer break, so be careful while driving because the little ones will be out on the streets.

Service Clubs

by Al (Cub) Coneybeare

Our Legion has had a busy time lately with a new executive having been chosen, along with our new president, H. Lloyd Johnson taking over. Our best to you Lloyd (Fuzzy).

Our seniors report they had a good time at Woodbine, however I have not heard of any big winners.

Elaine and Cal Davison organized a bus trip to visit Legions in Wilberforce, Apsley, Lakefield and Fenelon Falls where we were served a great buffet dinner. Thanks Elaine and Cal--let's do it again soon!

One special thing happened in Wilberforce Legion. One of the ladies took a wrong turn on her way to use the facilities and found herself in the little boys room. She remained hidden until she recognized familiar voices (mine) and Lloyd Johnson's. We ran interference for her, barricading the door until she emerged, very red-faced. She took a lot of teasing over her mistake, but remained a good sport throughout.

Comrade Terry Campbell is to be commended for the creative and substantial number of afghans and wool baby throws she and a dedicated circle of comrades from Branch 636 and other friends, knitted through the winter months. Some comrades and friends knitted while others donated wool. These afghans were generously donated to S.I.R.C.H. Emergency House being built in Haliburton and they are on display Sundays during May at the open house at the Mary Campbell/PineStone executive house.

There are a number of things coming up for the Legion Ladies Auxiliary, including: our annual yard sale, bake sale and ever popular Penny Sale, July 8, starting a 9 a.m. (yard sale) through to 4 p.m. with food and refreshments available; tickets are now available for the $250 in quality meat draw at the Fall Fair; and the Ladies Auxiliary draw for a glider swing set (July 8).

Welcome home to Harold Parkes and "Mighty Mouse" Baker following their recent hospitalization.

Why do they call Chicago the "Winless City"? Two of the city's professional sports franchises hold the records for going without a championship win. The Chicago Cubs have gone 86 years and the Chicago White Sox 77 years.

From Comrade Dave McAdam: Branch 636, in cooperation with the Minden Canada Day Committee will be promoting the theme "Canada Remembers" and plans to celebrate 50 years since the end of World War II. We will be parading along with the Bracebridge Legion Pipe Band, Scouts, Guides and Highland dancers at 11:30 on July 1. The parade will move out from St. Paul's Anglican Church to the intersection with Main Street where a ceremony will take place on the grassed area southwest of the bridge.

There will be a brief explanation of "Canada Remembers" theme, the act of Remembrance and the National Anthem as the flag is raised. Following this, the church bells will be rung, sirens at the ambulance and fire halls sounded and anyone wishing to sound their car horns for 30 seconds is welcome to do so; a re-enactment of what happened 50 years ago when the news of the end of the war was received. We are looking for a good turnout of Legionnaires and all are invited to participate in "Remembering" that happy occasion, as well as the Canadians, both on the battle front and here at home, who sacrificed for the freedoms we now enjoy.

Cub's Classic: Golf fanatic Joe was standing ready on the first tee on a beautiful sunny Saturday. He had just removed his driver from the bag and was about to tee off when a very lovely girl, obviously upset, raged toward him calling him every bad name in the book. She was dressed in a beautiful wedding gown with train and veil. Joe calmly stood his ground and said to the distraught miss, "I told you, ONLY if it rained!"

Next column I will continue with my Legion profiles featuring our Ladies Auxiliary President Sheila Burke.

Clayoquot vindication

Flying above Vancouver Island, one is confronted with a checker-board pattern of clear-cutting that has invaded most of the island's watersheds over the last two decades.

But there remains one truly spectacular area that is still relatively untouched. It is called Clayoquot Sound, a series of coastal islands offshore from a series of valleys.

Clayoquot includes 262,000 hectares of land of which 93 percent, or 244,000 hectares, are heavily forested with ancient trees. This is part of the traditional land of the Nuuchah Nulth people. The fate of these forests has recently been debated by the First Nations, forest companies and environmental groups.

About 160,000 hectares of the forest in Clayoquot are classified as "commercially productive." Of that area, 39,100 hectares are in protected zones while 30,000 hectares have already been logged, virtually all of it by clear-cut logging. The remaining 90,400 hectares is predominantly old growth and thus extremely attractive to the forest industry.

In 1993, thousands of environmentalists blockaded logging roads to Clayoquot and more than 800 protesters, ranging from children to grandparents, doctors, lawyers, foresters and politicians, were arrested for putting their bodies on the line. Foreign environmental organizations and prominent personalities offered support to what has become a highly inflamed battle.

Clayoquot Sound is a symbol of a clash between two profoundly different world views: one sees human beings as the dominant species for whom the planet is a resource. It is based on the assumption that people lie outside of the natural world and are clever enough to understand and manage it.

The other recognizes that we remain inextricably bound up in a nature whose complex components we barely know. Only a century ago, it didn't matter which view was predominant because human numbers and technology were still too limited to impact on the Earth. But today, we are transforming the chemical, physical and biological features of the planet.

Responding to the protesters and the rancour of loggers and forest companies, British Columbia Premier Mike Harcourt did what most politician do when faced with a crisis: he delayed making a decision. On October 22, 1993, Harcourt announced the formation of the Clayoquot Scientific Panel, charged with the goal, "to make forest practices in Clayoquot not only the best in the province, but the best in the world."

The Panel was made up of Nuuchah Nulth tribal leaders and eminent scientists, all of whom respected the traditional knowledge and cultural needs of the First Nations. They were also aware that Canada had signed four international agreements arising from the 1992 Earth Summit in Rio.

The Framework Convention on Climate Change emphasized the importance of protecting old growth forests and wetlands as a "carbon sink" to remove greenhouse gases. The Convention on Biological Diversity committed countries to protecting biodiversity of genes, species and ecosystems. Agenda 21, the strategy for fulfilling the Conventions, recognizes the priceless role of forests and the important function of indigenous people in developing them. Finally, the Guiding Principles on Forests outlines 15 principles to manage, conserve and sustain forests.

The Panel was co-chaired by Dr. Fred Bunnell, a wildlife ecologist with extensive experience in resource management and Dr. Richard Atleo, an expert on indigenous human resources and a hereditary chief of the Nuuchah Nulth people. It had the potential to produce an important document incorporating the deepest understanding of the limits of scientific knowledge as well as the best ecological insights on sustainability and carrying capacity.

Over 19 months, the panel released five reports (which can be obtained from Cortex Consultants Inc., in Victoria B.C.)

The range of the reports is worth noting. The first lays out the terms of reference, the standards and scope of the panel's task. Report two reviews the current forest practices and standards in Clayoquot. The third report is on First Nation's perspectives while the fourth is titled A Vision and its context for Clayoquot. The final report was Clayoquot Sound: Planning and Practices.

Taken together the documents are a stunning indictment of current forestry practices and vindicate the thousands of people who have protested Canada's logging methods as unscientific, unsustainable, and in the long run, uneconomic. The reports are not without weaknesses, but they provide a different perspective for forest practices if we aspire to maintaining rich, productive forests in the future.

Next week, the reports in detail.

Around the County Town

by Jeanne Sears (call 286-1538)

The First Minden Guides and Pathfinders were at the Bathe Farm in Gelert where they camped for the weekend and all had a great time.

***

Elva and Lois Deacon attended the Thornton reunion which was held at the home of Marie MacEachern on Saturday, June 10. Cousins from North Carolina and Kansas travelled the greatest distance to attend. It was a great get-together for everyone.

***

Club 35 euchre results from June 12 were: most lone hands Jim Bradbury, highs Hazel Gregory and Norm Lee and others included Mary Schad, Milt Fletcher and Ken Wallace. Special awards went to Betty Hicks, Mary Schad, Verna Sawyer, Milt Fletcher and the 50-50 draw to Mary Pearson. The next Wheels to Meals dinner is June 20 at 12 noon.

***

Effective July 1 - Minden Library hours are as follows: Monday - Closed. Tuesday 1-5 p.m. Wednesday 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 3-5 p.m. Thursday 1-5 and 7-9 p.m. Friday 2-5 p.m. and Saturday 1-5 p.m.

***

Mary Wilson, Mike and Cindy had a wonderful visit with Mary's brother Gordon Hughes and his wife Mary from Melbourne, Australia. They fell in love with our fast waters and lovely scenery in and about Minden and Eagle Lake. The Timbersports were another new and enjoyable venture for them. They are now in Alaska before heading home. Nice to have had you here.

***

Dorothy McElwain visited Mike and Mo McElwain and boys in Millbrook and with Kirk and Julie McElwain and family in Ajax. They attended the Hydro Baseball tournament there last weekend.

***

Chic and Marian Minaker of Stouffville spent last week at their home in Lochlin and enjoyed visiting with friends and neighbours.

***

Kit Schroeter had a visit in Oshawa last weekend with Pat and Dan Lyons and girls.

***

Winners at Branch 636 Minden Legion euchre games for June 8 included for most lone hands Verna McDonald and Pat Scadden, Margaret Fletcher and Frank Campagnolo with the highs and Maxine Cross, Ellen Holden, Al Cooper, Iris Taylor, Ida Young and Pat Rousselle.

***

The Annual Seniors Tea hosted by the A.H. & M Council members was held at the Recreation Centre on June 13. A large crowd from the village attended and some of the residents from Hyland Crest came over in their bus. Tea, coffee and goodie trays went the rounds then Reeve Anthon introduced the councillors and their wives. Grant Plooard was absent (he did too much at Timbersport last Saturday). She introduced John Hulbig who received a special Volunteer Award and he told of receiving this on an eventful evening with the Anthon's. A social time followed when seniors mingled and greeted one another. Another great event and thanks to all the councillors for a great time.

***

David Hicks from Unionville was a weekend guest with his parents, Betty and Gerald Hicks and everyone had a great time at the weekend ball tournament in Minden.

***

Good wishes to the following on the sick list: Norma Burk, Gladys Reid, Sherman Johnston and Hilda Harrison who we understand is still in Mount Sinai.

***

Irene Minaker from Toronto visited Gladys and Jim Dugan for the past week.

Last Wednesday was a memorable day for Mary and Jean Cox, Nancy Gayton and myself when we attended with other W.I. members of East and West Victoria Districts, the "Prelude to Centennial" day at the Agricultural Museum in Milton. Some 1400 people attended this ceremony which saw speakers, the singing of Oh Canada and the raising of the Women's Institute flag. The grounds were crowded with W.I. members and some husbands and we saw the beautiful quilts hung for the competition. Getting lunch was a bit of a problem with 400 at each sitting, but we finally got ours. This is the beginning of the Women's Institutes of Ontario celebrating their Centennial in 1997 and incidentally, Minden W.I. will have 90 years at that time as well. We had 46 on the pleasant coach trip and in spite of holdups on the 401, we got there and home safely.

***

Betty and Gerald Hicks and Elva Milburn had a visit with their aunt Reta Minaker in Lindsay recently.

***

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Stan Archer, George von Knoblock and Emily (Poole) Drew who passed away recently.

***

Legion Seniors group bid euchre game winners on June 6--moonshots were Norm and Helen Lee and Marj Coulter and other winners were Norm and Helen and Bev Johnson. A large crowd turned up June 13 to enjoy the pot luck and draws went to Jessie Preston, Peter Learn and Ellen Holden. The weekly games will occur again on June 20.

***

Weekly euchre game winners at St. Paul's on Monday, June 12 were Verna McDonald, Roberta Walker and Marie Dennie with Marie also taking the draw. Most lone hands went to Irene Fuhr. These games take place at 1:30 weekly and everyone is welcome to attend.

***

Winners at Stanhope Bridge games at the Library on June 12 included Helen Rice, Betty Schlotter and Barry Cowling.

***

Noble Motel euchre game winners on Wednesday, June 14 included Barb Kenneth and Tony Kenneth and Todd Edson had the most lone hands. These games are open to everyone.

***

Wednesday night bid euchre game winners at Stanhope on June 14 included moonshots to Jean Scadden, Jim Foster, Bill Milford and Marjorie Cowan. Others were Jean Pennock, Grace Dixon, Ruth Gregory, Jim Foster, Pat Scadden, Ken Wallace and Jack Cox. Hidden score went to Ken Young.

***

Don't forget Minden Women's Institute pot luck at noon on Wednesday, June 21. St. Paul's ACW are having a pie sale on Saturday June 24 on Main street after 10 a.m. See you there. The Legion seniors are doing a course on learning to make paper baskets at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, June 20. Anyone interested call for list of supplies at 286-2692.

IN MEMORIAM

GREER, Byard and Myrtle - In loving memory of a dear father and mother as well as dear grandparents who passed away on June 22, 1978 and June 20, 1994 respectively.

Our lives go on without you
And nothing is the same.
We have to hide our heartache
When someone speaks your name.

Sad are the hearts that love you
Silent the tears that fall,
Living our lives without you
Is the hardest part of all.
You did so many things for us
Your hearts were kind and true
And when we needed someone
We could always count on you.
The special years will not return
When we were all together,
But with the love within our hearts
You will walk with us forever.
Always remembered and sadly missed by your Family.

IN MEMORIAM

PROCENKO, Michael - In loving memory of our dear son and brother, taken from us suddenly June 23, 1978.

Not a day has gone by
Without a thought,
Whether the thoughts
Brought laughter or tears,
Like you, the memories
Are cherished forever
In our hearts.
We love you and will always
Miss you Michael.
Mom, Dad and Lisa.

IN MEMORIAM

PROCENKO, Michael - In memory of a dear wee friend and neighbour lost to us June 23, 1978.

Sunshine fades and shadows fall,
But sweet remembrance outlasts all.
The Beers Family.
